PROXY AND CORRESPONDENCE VOTING

a) Proxy

In accordance with the provisions laid down in article 7 of the Company's Bylaws and article 14 of the General Meeting Rules, all shareholders entitled to attend the General Meeting may appoint another person to represent them, regardless of whether this person is a Company shareholder, provided that all the formalities and prerequisites laid down in law, in the Bylaws or in any of the other Company rules and regulations have been fully complied with.

The proxy, which must be granted on the occasion of each Meeting, must be granted in writing and may be granted by correspondence, so long as verification of the identity of the shareholder exercising his right to appoint a proxy and the security of any electronic correspondence is duly guaranteed. The only valid appointments by correspondence are those made by means of:

a) Postal correspondence, addressed to the Company at "Avenida de Burgos nº 16, d, C.P 28036, Madrid", by sending in the attendance, proxy appointment and correspondence voting form issued by the entity or entities engaged to administer the book entry records or made available to shareholders by the Company on its website (www.saetayield.com), duly signed and filled out by the shareholder.

b) Electronic correspondence in a form that duly guarantees the proxy appointment and the identification of the proxy holder. Proxies granted using these channels shall be accepted as valid whenever the electronic document conferring the proxy includes a recognised digital signature or the advanced digital signature of the proxy holder, in keeping with the terms envisaged in Spain's Digital Signature Act 59/2003, of 19 December 2003, based on a recognised digital certificate which can be attested as valid, issued by the CERES (initials in Spanish for the Spanish public certification authority), an entity under the national mint of Spain.

Any shareholder in possession of a digital signature that meets the above-listed requirements identifying themselves by means of said certificate, may delegate their vote via electronic correspondence following the instructions and procedures specified on the Company's website (www.saetayield.com).

A proxy appointed by any of the above-listed means of correspondence (postal or electronic correspondence) is only valid if received by the Company before twenty-four hours on the day prior to the date scheduled for the General Meeting at first call, before twenty-four hours on June 21 at first call or before 22 at second call.

Shareholders conferring proxies by means of postal or electronic correspondence are obliged to inform the appointees of the designation. When a proxy is granted to a director of the Company or the Secretary of the Board of Directors, the foregoing notification requirement shall be deemed effective by virtue of receipt by The Company of the proxy appointment by postal or electronic correspondence.

On the day of the General Meeting, at the scheduled venue, proxy holders must identify themselves by means of a valid national identity card or any other current official document generally accepted for such purpose, so that the Company can verify the proxy appointment. Proxy holders should also carry on their person a copy of the proxy appointment and power of attorney, as warranted.

Proxy holders may only cast votes on behalf of the conferring shareholder by means of in- person attendance at the General Meeting. A proxy is always revocable. Shareholder attendance at the General Meeting implies proxy revocation, regardless of the date of proxy appointment. Moreover, proxy appointments made after a vote is cast by correspondence shall be considered void.

b) Voting

In accordance with the provisions laid down in article 25 of the General Meeting Rules, all shareholders entitled to attend and vote at the General Meeting may cast their votes on the Agenda items in advance of the General Meeting using the following means of correspondence.

- a) Postal correspondence, addressed to the Company at "Avenida de Burgos nº 16 d, 28036, Madrid", by sending in the attendance, proxy appointment and correspondence voting form issued by the entity or entities engaged to administer the book entry records or made available to shareholders by the Company on its website (www.saetayield.com), duly signed and filled out by the shareholder by checking the corresponding boxes on the attendance, proxy appointment and correspondence voting form.
- b) By means of electronic correspondence, so long as the electronic document casting the vote includes a legally acknowledged digital signature or the advanced digital signature of the shareholder, in keeping with the terms envisaged in Spain's Digital Signature Act 59/2003, of 19 December 2003, based on a recognised digital certificate which can be attested as valid, issued by the CERES (initials in Spanish for the Spanish public certification authority), an entity under the national mint of Spain.

Any shareholder in possession of a digital signature that meets the above-listed requirements identifying themselves by means of said certificate may cast their votes following the instructions and procedures specified on the Company's website (www.saetayield.com).

A vote cast by any of the above-listed means of correspondence (postal or electronic correspondence) is only valid if received by the Company before twenty-four hours on the day immediately prior to the date on which the General Meeting is scheduled at first or second, as the case may be, before twenty-four hours on June 23 at first call or before 24 at second call. To the contrary, the proxy shall be deemed not appointed and the vote deemed not cast.

Shareholders casting their vote by correspondence on the terms indicated in the Bylaws and the General Meeting Rules shall be considered in attendance for the purposes of validly calling the General Meeting in question to order. By virtue of said attendance, proxies appointed before voting will be deemed revoked and those appointed after will be considered null and void.

A vote cast by means of correspondence will only be rendered null and void by virtue of: (i) subsequent and express revocation of the vote using the same mechanism as was used to cast the vote and within the deadline established for this channel, (ii) attendance at the meeting by the shareholder casting the vote, or (iii) sale of the shares giving entitlement to the voting right and notified to the Company at least five days prior to the date of the scheduled General Meeting.

The order of priority between proxies, correspondence votes and in-person attendance at the General Meeting is as follows:

- In-person attendance at the General Meeting by a shareholder that has formerly appointed a proxy or cast a vote by means of correspondence, regardless of the channel used, shall render the proxy or vote null and void.
- When a shareholder validly appoints a proxy by electronic correspondence and also by means of a printed attendance, proxy appointment and correspondence voting form issued by the entity or entities engaged to administer the book entry records or by the Company, the latter takes precedence over the former, regardless of the respective grant dates.
- A vote, regardless of the means used to cast it, shall render any proxy appointment without effect, by revoking it in the case of an appointment made prior to the vote and by rendering it void in the case of an appointment made subsequent to the vote.
- Without prejudice to other specific rules, in the event that a shareholder validly appoints several proxies or casts several votes by electronic correspondence, the latest proxy or vote to be received by the Company within the stipulated deadlines shall take precedence over the others.
- Both proxies and votes cast by means of correspondence shall be rendered null and void upon disposal of the shares giving entitlement to attendance and notified to the Company at least five days prior to the date of the scheduled General Meeting.

Joint owners of shares can vote, appoint proxies and attend the General Meeting. Joint owners shall be bound by the above order of priority rules. For the purposes of article 126 of the Spanish Corporate Enterprises Act, it is assumed that each time a joint owner performs an act (appoints a proxy, casts a vote or attends a Meeting), he has been appointed by the rest of the joint owners to exercise the shareholder right in question.

The Company will upload the forms to be used by shareholders to appoint proxies and cast their votes by correspondence (postal service or electronic means) on its corporate website (www.saetayield.com).

If the shareholder is a legal person, the latter must, at the request of the Company, provide with a copy of the power of attorney duly accrediting the grant of proxy or power to cast its vote by correspondence and notify the Company of any amendment to or revocation of the powers of attorney conferred in its proxy. Accordingly, the Company is in no way liable for implementation of amended powers prior to receipt of due notification.

Shareholders bear sole responsibility for custody of their digital signatures.

The Company reserves the right to modify, suspend, cancel or restrict electronic voting and proxy mechanisms when warranted or required for technical or security reasons.

The Company assumes no liability for any damages that may be incurred by its shareholders as a result of breakdowns, power surges, line failure, connection failure, postal service interruptions or any other equivalent or similar eventuality beyond the control of the Company that hinders or impedes use of the correspondence voting and proxy mechanisms.
